Taiga biome

Taiga, also known as coniferous or boreal forest, is the largest terrestrial biome on Earth. It covers nearly one-fifth of the Earth's land surface in an almost unbroken belt for 7,000 miles. The origin of the name 'taiga' is Russian and means land of the little sticks which highlights the predominance of needle-leaved trees. The Taiga biome is quite a harsh landscape, although not as harsh as the tundra, but is popular with tourists for activities such as cycling, hiking and canoeing
