

Today you are going to publish the final version of your poem for our Autumn poetry book.

A published piece of work should:

- be written in your neatest handwriting
- include any spelling corrections
- be a piece of work you feel proud of

Once you have written it up, you can then decorate your poem.

