WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

WORKING IN PARTNERSHIP WITH PARENTS

Thorp Cluster Y5/6 Basketball Tournament

A team of Year 5 children represented Emmaville at the Thorp Cluster Basketball Tournament. They came up against four other teams of Year 5 and 6 children from Chopwell, Ryton, Rowlands Gill and Crookhill.

During the tournament, the Emmaville team did themselves and the school proud; they performed as a team, worked hard, were tenacious in defence and creative in attack. They won one game, drew another and lost the final two, but throughout them all, their attitude was superb.

For all of them, it was their first experience of a basketball tournament. They improved every game, very much enjoyed the experience and put in some excellent performances.

Well done to the team!

Mr Elliott

Dear Families,

We continue to face a number of disruptions to school life as a result of the virus. Can we please ask that parents/carers make sure they use a Lateral Flow test on their child/children if they display any of the symptoms of the virus.

We apologise that there has been no news bulletin for a couple of weeks, this has been due to staff absence. We are trying very hard not to allow staff absence to affect the children, but we are aware that the slightest change can be tricky for some of our little people. Please be assured that we will endeavour to try our very best to offer continuity for the children, but in the current climate this is proving rather difficult. However, I very much appreciate your patience and support.

School Meal Vouchers

School will be issuing the vouchers to cover the holiday period, week commencing Monday 21st to Sunday 27th February.

Gateshead Council has placed funds with Edenred, and all eligible families will receive £30 per child for this holiday period in order to continue to support them during this time of year with increased energy and food bills.

The Council is also intending to help with vouchers for the Easter holiday period 2022, although the normal value of £15 per child per week, will most likely be what families receive.

Online Safety

Although we regularly remind children about the importance of keeping themselves safe whilst online, a number of activities were planned for Safer Internet Day which was on Tuesday 8th February. Please spend time discussing with your child/children things they have learnt in school this week. We have also sent out the February Online Safety newsletter. If you ever misplace the Online Safety newsletters you will find them on the school website; just click on to the Parents tab and scroll down to the Online Safety link. There is lots of useful information on that page that will be helpful and informative about how you can keep your children safe.

Wellbeing and Mental Health

At Emmaville, we believe it is extremely important to take a positive, proactive approach to mental health and wellbeing. We have many strategies in place to support the children and their families, and we are always looking for new ways to improve upon our provision. We work in partnership with Kalmer Counselling Service, and they now provide us with a monthly newsletter that we share with our families. The January and February newsletters are attached to this week's bulletin. Again, if you ever misplace the wellbeing newsletters, you can find them on the school website under the Parents tab, just click on the wellbeing link.

Thank you for helping us to raise funds for the Place2Be charity. This charity does much good work to help children and young people get the emotional support that they require. In next week's bulletin we will let you know how much money you helped us to raise.

School website

Please take time to look at the class pages on the website. The class pages give the teachers an opportunity to share with the community what the children have been doing throughout the course of the week. It is an opportunity to have an insight into the things the children accomplish in a week.

Writers of the Month

It is the time in the month when we celebrate the writing achievements of our young people. It always fills me with great joy as I see the teachers putting on the board the writing that they have chosen from their classes. Congratulations to all our writers for the month of February, it is good to see that you have been working very hard and we are immensely proud of your efforts.

Instead of a word for the month of February, I would like to give a round of applause to my amazing staff and the incredible children of Emmaville School, who I am always so proud of. Well done to everyone.

Have a lovely weekend,

Avril Armstrong

Internet Safety Day 2022

Tuesday 8th February was Internet Safety Day. This year the theme was 'Fun and Games.' Exploring respect and relationships online. During the day the children completed different tasks focused on online safety. There was also a class competition to design some SMART rules that will be displayed on our class iPads. We will share some of these winning designs in future newsletters.

If possible, will you please have a conversation with your children about staying safe whilst online? What can they tell you about what they have learnt in school? Click the link to complete a family internet safety plan.

All of the children throughout school have regular lessons linked to online safety and are very knowledgeable.

Thinkuknow CEOP Education, have also developed a game called Band Runner. This is aimed at children aged 8 - 10. In it the children get to complete different challenges to collect stars. During these challenges they also have to answer some questions linked to keeping themselves safe online. Click on the blue hyperlink to access it and play it. Remember to ask permission first!

The children will also be looking at our Acceptable Use Policy for using the internet. Parents/carers have had a copy sent home that needs to be signed and then returned to your child's class teacher.

Mrs Lawrence

Can we just remind parents/carers that during the school day, the children are only permitted to drink water.

A carton of juice can be included in their packed lunch boxes, but in their water bottles they should only have water.

"If I am thinking correctly," said Pooh, "a new baby is probably undoubtedly the grandest gift that could ever be."
"A grand gift indeed."

Congratulations to
Harry and Heidi on the birth of their sister Nancy and
Eden and Luke on the birth of their brother Theodore

Dear Diary,

Today I was really happy because I was going to turn on my robot. I ran to the work shop faster than I had ever ran before. I jumped straight in the robot, fixed a few screws and came out. I was so excited. I went to the lever and pulled it, but nothing happened. I did it again and again but it still didn't work, I was really confused. I felt determined to make it work. So I went inside, fixed a bit of the engine and then pulled the lever. I thought this is the big moment. But nothing happened. I felt deflated. I sat down and threw my blue prints in anger. Seeing red, I got up and forced the lever further than it could reach ... the robots eyes lit up! Suddenly, the gas dial went to red and exploded. Everything went black. When I opened my eyes, my robot had saved me. He sacrificed his life for mine.

Walk through the park

As they entered the gloomy park, all Charles could see was his mum's dark red hat.

His mother, with her back up straight, marched Charles along the grey concrete pavement, everyone talking to her saying:

"good day Molly," and

"Look after that child of yours; don't get him dirty,"

Charles sighed.

Molly zipped her coat down, undid the buttons and tightened her bracelet, keeping her eyes firmly on Charles. She crossed her arms and walked on.

She bent down making sure her dress wasn't in the mud and let Victoria off her lead. "ugh this place is as filthy as a horse field that hasn't been cleaned for hundreds of years," she exclaimed standing up and wiping her dress with her hands.

A few seconds later, she saw another dog joining Victoria out of the corner of her eye. "You filthy mongrel!" she exclaimed.

My thoughts about the Film

One snowy day, a little girl was skipping down an ally way. She saw a steamed window with lots of names on so Alma wrote her name in the neatest handwriting she could. There was a creepy scratching noise. She turned to look at the old doll shop. She thought to herself that the shop has been shut down for ages. Alma went to the window and wiped all of the steam off and saw a big doll, a strange doll, it looked just like Alma. Alma tries to open the door but it was locked alma was sad. She walked off but as soon as she left the door opened. She stepped in with no fear.

Lydia (Asia)

Joseph was running. He could hear their shouts behind him. Joseph didn't know this area of London. He usually roamed around the south of London at this time of year or central London where there was more food left around for winter. He tried to knock over a tower of crates to slow his pursuers down but they just barged through them like they were cardboard boxes. He kept trying to lose them by suddenly turning corners but it never worked.

Suddenly, Joseph was swept away into the shadows. It was pitch black so he waited for his eyes to adjust to the darkness. When they did, he saw a tall and slender man straightening his top hat. He wore a black waist coat and tight purple gloves. His boots were so shiny he could see every single feature on his face in the reflection. In his left hand was a cane with a spiked sphere on the end. "Are you ok?" said the strange man. Joseph didn't know what to say. "Let's get you somewhere safe."

"My name is Mr Malcom." The man said as he led Joseph through the allies. A mysterious fog started to carpet the floor. Mr Malcolm kept walking. The further they went the deeper the fog got. Mr Malcolm kept walking. Soon the fog was covering his face. He could just see Mr Malcolm's silhouette and there was no sign of getting out of it soon. Joseph didn't know what to do, should he run away? As if he could read his mind, Mr Malcolm swung his cane and thrustured him forward.

"Welcome, to your new home!" said Mr Malcolm. It was a huge building with five towering chimneys on the top. There was a tight steel fence covered in barbed wire surrounding four cabins off to his right. On his left, there were tunnels going down underground with a pulley system brining up cart after cart of coal. Mr Malcolm showed him round and left him to sleep.

The next morning he woke up and went for breakfast. "Mr Malcolm, what's for breakfast?" He asked.

"Shut up if you want any breakfast!" Mr Malcolm snapped, "it'll be a long day if you don't have any food working down the mines!" Joseph gasped.
