

Friday 7th January

LO: To recognise how a character is feeling at different points in a story

|                              |                       |                                |   |                                  |                              |   |  |
|------------------------------|-----------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------------------------|------------------------------|---|--|
|                              |                       |                                |   |                                  |                              |   |  |
| OW offered a lift to London. | OW arrives in London. | OW offered a job from merchant | OW forced to live in rat infested room. | OW saved enough money to buy cat | OW is forced to sell his cat | Merchant gives money to OW. He is rich! |  |